Taking into consideration past and present

Halina Grzymała-Moszczyńska, Ph.D.

Professor of Psychology

Jagiellonian University, Cracow, Poland

My profile

25 + 4

Shifting between communities

- Community back home
        Helplessness
        Responsibility (extended family)
        Guilt feeling
  Transitional space
        Immediate family (socialization of children)
        Ecological adaptation (sun, temperature, food)
        Bodily reaction
        Is there any way back?

Encountering host community

- Sense of alienation

- What does it mean to be a good guest

- Building new network (trust, pain sharing)

- Giving attitude as a way of bulding sense of belonging and restoring sense of agency

Host community preventive measures need for cultural brooker

creating safety net (culture relevant therapeutic suport)

out of country resources