

Geographers in Research Week

Sustainability and Climate Action Research

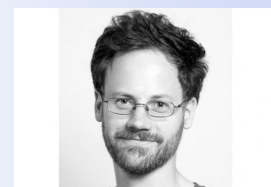

When: Monday, October 24, 2022 - 10:00 to 13:00

Where: Online

Geographers involve: Dr Louise Fitzgerald & Dr Patrick Bresnihan

The online part of this event will showcase the research in climate action and sustainability conducted at Maynooth University.

This will involve a series of 10-minute presentations followed by panel discussions and Q&A sessions and is open to all MU staff and students and members of the public. It will provide networking opportunities with several external partners, including An Taisce, Kildare County Council (Climate Action Office), Climate Response Ireland and a number of local community groups.

One of the ambitions for the forum is to explore potential collaborative opportunities for MU researchers and students with two important projects, centred around Maynooth, namely the Legacy4Life Low Carbon Plan (An Taisce) and Maynooth Decarbonising Zone (Kildare County Council). We will also discuss how best to embed these themes and actions into our teaching and curriculum through our Project and Research Live initiatives.

For further information please contact greencampus@mu.ie

Please Register here

Join here

Geographers in Research Week

The impact of MU research on public policy: What we do, what we could do, and what comes next?

When: Tuesday, October 25, 2022 - 14:00 to 15:30

Where: MUSSI Seminar Room 2.31, 2nd Floor, Iontas Building

Geographers involved: Prof. Mark Boyle

This will be a panel session. Professor Mark Boyle will chair a discussion with a panel of MU faculty drawn from across the University who will share their thoughts on the past, present and future of MU and public policy.

Undergraduate Research Symposium

When: Wednesday, October 26, 2022 - 14:00 to 16:00

Where: 1st Floor Foyer of TSI Building

Geographers involved: Dr William Durkan

The Experiential Learning Office are delighted to bring the Undergraduate Research Symposium back to campus for the first time in two years.

This event celebrates the diversity of undergraduate research activity across Maynooth University and presents a forum for the Summer Programme for Undergraduate Research (SPUR) students from all faculties to showcase their research among peers and the wider university community. Judges and guests can view participants posters and hear directly from students about their research. Everyone is encouraged to come along, ask questions, and show their support to the participants

SPUR Project: Geography of Voter Turnout at General Election 2020

Student: Ana Ruth Ní Linneáin

Mentors: William Durkan & Adrian Kavanagh

SPUR Project: Social Geography: A Learner-Centred Research Project

Student: Jason Roche

Mentor: Mary Gilmartin

All welcome.